Executive Board Education

Board work and board responsibilities require knowledge and competences. It is a professional job where you work closely with the company, its goals and strategies.

A targeted board training programme gives you the knowledge and tools to become an effective and competent board member.

The programme is aimed at CEOs, experienced managers and board members in small and medium-sized companies.

THE BOARD EDUCATION GIVES YOU:

- Overview of your role, tasks and legal responsibilities in the boardroom
- Tools to challenge the company's purpose, vision and business model
- Tools for risk and audit work
- Knowledge of the annual cycle, business plans, buying and selling companies, cybercrime, valuation, transformations etc.
- Co-operation between board and management
- Knowledge of board recruitment, board composition and interactions in the board
- Hands-on knowledge from private equity funds, top executives, listed companies & the SME segment
- 1:1 meeting with a headhunter about board CV and guidelines
- Board network and invitation to participate in ongoing webinars with relevant board topics

The programme is led by leading business leaders and board profiles from the Danish business community, where responsibility, strategy, law and economics form the basis for you to be prepared for the boardroom.

Knowledge will be given to you via a mix of lectures, discussions, group work, expert presentations and a number of cases. The education takes place over five days.

Price: kr. 39.500 excl. VAT

Incl. books, materials and catering all day with two networking dinners.

Programme

The education is tailor-made with focus on equipping you for the challenges ahead in board work. We teach the most important areas and challenges you will face in your role as a member of the board and always with relatable and specific case work.

I enrolled in the Executive Board Education to sharpen my my tools for working in the boardroom.

The programme has fully lived up to my expectations. In a condensed programme, we have been through the primary elements of board work such as roles, co-operation, law, strategy - to name just a few. The programme has been a good mix of theory and practical cases with presentations from Birn+Partners and external inspiring speakers.

EXECUTIVE B+FORUM

After completing the programme, you get access to B+Forum, which regularly organises relevant webinars focusing on board leadership, and which gives you access to counselling regarding your board CV.

You'll have a unique opportunity to network with other board members and ask direct questions to the network who can offer input.

A unique and exclusive network for those who have participated in the board training programme.

B+Forum communicates and shares knowledge via LinkedIn profile: Birn+Partners Executive Board Forum

Speakers*

You will be taught, inspired and challenged by hand-picked, leading business leaders with practical experience in value-creating board work.

The training is organised and adapted based on the practicalities of boards across nationalities, ownership structures and sizes. The trainers are carefully selected for each training programme, which is constantly updated with the latest knowledge in board leadership.

More than 200 managers and directors have successfully completed our board training programme.

Executive Board Education from Birn+Partners is a directly applicable, condensed education in board work. The numerous competent speakers, with their broad background and experience, greatly contributed to making the course exciting and informative. We covered important aspects of establishing an active and value-creating board, including the roles and responsibilities of the involved parties. I feel well-equipped to undertaking the professional board work.
